Hugo s example has been followed--nay, even improved, for the master, as his followers affectionately call him, is, like other great geniuses, often careless, and the art of Theophile Gautier, and of Baudelaire, and of M. Theodore de Banville, is above all things finished and polished and perfect. And to-day the inspiration which the French poets caught from their study of the early forms of French CHAPTER IX. OF SONG-WRITING. ALTHOUGH song-writing is one of the most difficult styles of versification, it is now held in but little repute, owing to the unfortunate condition of the musical world in England. Any rubbish will do for music is the maxim of the music shop-keeper, who is practically the arbiter of the art nowadays, and who has...
