Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Education in France in 1916-1918 What in the higher elementary schools or in the technical schools shall be the relations between general education and vocational training? In secondary education what shall be the relations between classical culture and preparation for modern life, and in higher education between pure and applied science? Is not the problem the same everywhere? The answer to this statement is that the principle of balance, the principle upon which the Republic is founded, will offer a solution here too. A balance between science and letters, between authority and liberty, between discipline and initiative; a balance attained with wisdom and moderation, with tolerance and humanity, with finesse and good sense; a balance so conforming to the liberal ideas maintained by the defenders of civilization that it will suffice for us to establish it in instruction so that it may become adapted to the demands of modern society and definitely serve the interests of the country. While one tendency is represented by those who desire to retain the present organization provided it is...
